REVELATIONS OF LOBBYIST INTEREST ALL IN RECOUNTING

SOUGHT CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT

Mulhall Reveals Alleged Plans of the Manufacturers.

BRINGS IN NAMES OF BIG MEN

Testifies the N. A. M. Raised More Than Half Million Dollars a Year to Oppose Legislation Its Members Did Not Like — Official Refuses to Give the Names of Those Who Had Contributed to the Fund.

Washington, July 17.—Plans to make the National Association of Manufacturers the controlling factor in campaigns for congress, to defeat legislation in Washington its members didn't approve, to get the ears of men who were running presidential booms and to land a member of the association in the cabinet of a president, were laid before the senate lobby investigating committee.

Martin M. Mulhall, self-styled lobbyist for the association, swore to the authenticity of nearly 400 letters which told of these plans and brought in the names of such men as Former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, the late Vice President Sherman, Former Speaker Cannon, Former Senators Aldrich, Hemenway, Foraker and others, Arthur I. Vorys, Ohio manager of the Taft campaign of 1908; ex-Congressman Ralph D. Cole of Ohio and Frank H. Hitchcock, one time chairman of the Republican national committee and postmaster general in Mr. Taft's cabinet.

Mulhall testified, too, that the National Association of Manufacturers had raised between $500,000 and $700,000 a year to be used in opposing legislation its members did not like. He said this information came from a collector for the council and that he had no personal knowledge of it except that he had been paid for political work from such a fund.

Mentions Cole and Vorys. Referring to a meeting with Arthur I. Vorys, the then Secretary Taft's political manager, Mulhall wrote that Vorys assured him the secretary stood for "what our people wished, a tariff commission," and had not altered his stand on injunction legislation.

Senator Reed asked whether Former Representative Cole of Ohio was friendly to the National Association of Manufacturers. "Extremely so," replied the witness. "Subservient in fact."

Mulhall continued: "I told Mr. Vorys that there were two things our people wanted, one was that we wished representation on the next campaign committee and the other as that our members clearly felt that they were entitled to a member in the next cabinet. Mr. Vorys and Mr. Cole fully agreed with me on those matters."

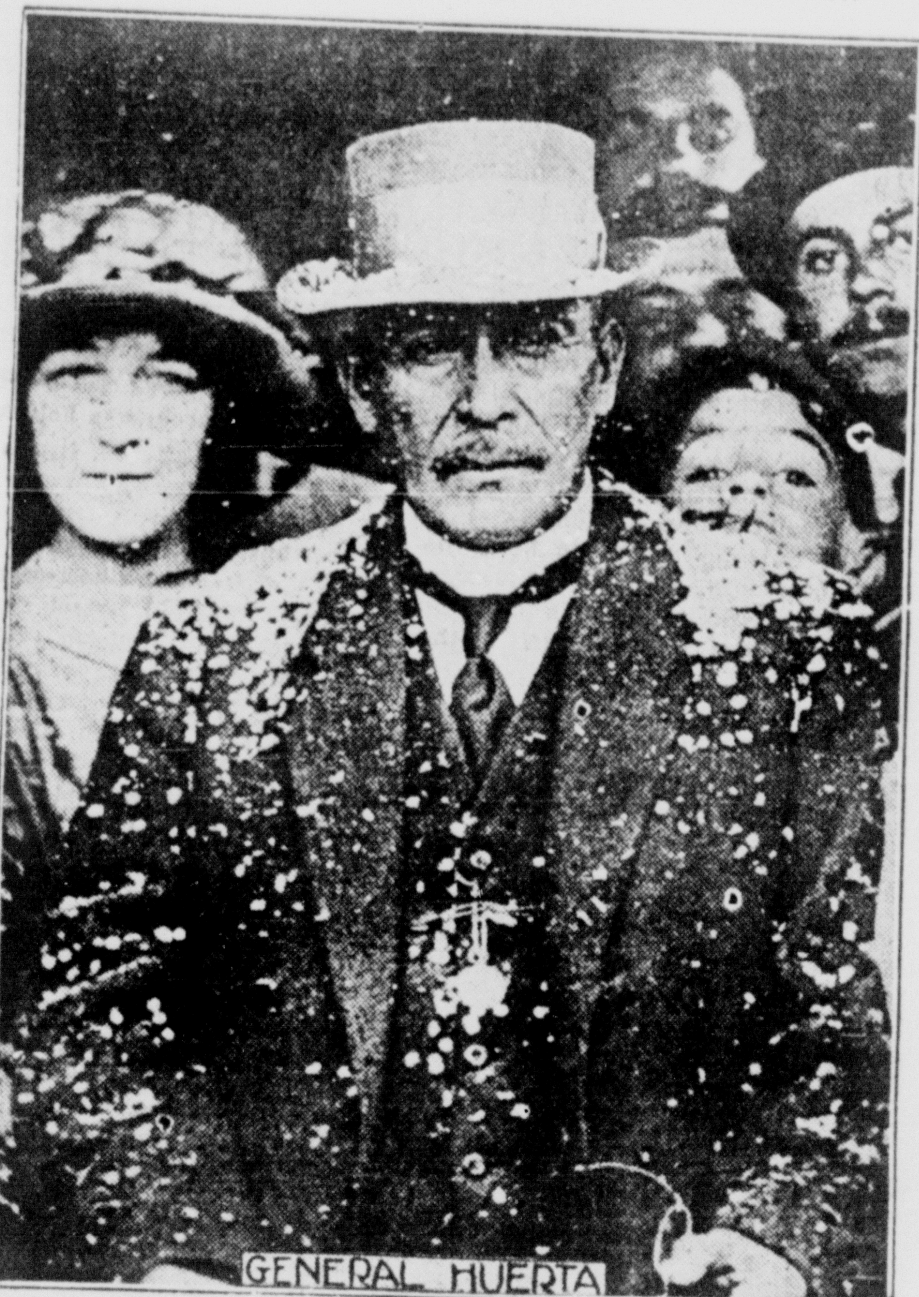

J. P. Bird, general manager of the manufacturers' association, and treasurer of the industrial defense council, brought half a carload of books and papers with him to Washington and turned them over to the committee. He refused to say who had contributed to the fund of the council, but he will be examined at length later and the committee will undertake to make him tell what manufacturers contributed and what amounts they gave.

Zanesville, O., July 17.—When a city street car, also used as a repair car on the Ohio Electric railway, tried to round a curve at too great a speed it jumped the track and rolled 20 feet down an embankment. Four persons were slightly injured.

PLOT TO SLAY PRESIDENT HUERTA AND OTHER MEXICAN OFFICIALS FRUSTRATED

Mexico City, July 17.—A plot to assassinate President Huerta, General Felix Diaz and General Blanquet, the war minister, has been frustrated by the arrest of one deputy and ten others persons of no great prominence. It is said that the intention was to use bombs at some opportune moment when these officials were driving through the streets. Documents were found on the prisoners identifying them as supporters of Zapata and setting forth an outline of the plot.

Several of the prisoners have confessed. In a building somewhat remotely located they had practiced the throwing of bombs, studying their effect. This picture of President Huerta was made at a fiesta a few days ago. He is shown covered with confetti, but his expression does not indicate that he is entirely happy. He looks extremely gloom, and those surrounding him are also gloomy. He realizes that he is approaching a crisis in his political career.

GENERAL HUERTA

C. E. LITTLEFIELD

Mulhall Says He Paid Bribe to Elect Representative.

In his testimony before the senate lobby investigating committee, Mulhall told of the part played by him in the N. A. M. in campaigns in Pennsylvania, New York and Maine. In the fight in Maine for the re-election of Representative Charles E. Littlefield he said he had bribed Dr. G. L. Crockett, a prominent Democratic orator, with $500 to speak against Samuel Gompers and in favor of Mr. Littlefield.

POWERFUL ALLIES

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Members of the newly formed Maids' union declare they will refuse ice from non-union drivers who are working to break the strike of the ice delivery men here.

MURDERED IN GERMANY.

Cincinnati, O., July 17.—Fred Koenig, 21, was murdered several days ago in Munich, Germany, according to word received by John Koenig, his father, manager of a brewing company of this city. It is believed that young Koenig was killed by robbers.

VERY "UNNICE" THINGS ARE SAID

DENOUNCES LEADER OF SCIENCE CHURCH

Woman Follower of Mrs. Stetson Alleges a Plot.

New York, July 17.—Mrs. Edgar I. Wright of Bay Side, L. I., denounced Richard P. Verrill, first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the regular testimonial meeting of the congregation, as a member of the Society of Jesuits, and called on all followers of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy to aid her in her fight against him and all persons who supported him. Mrs. Wright is a follower of Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, who was excommunicated from the mother Christian Science church in Boston, while Mr. Verrill, now the leading member of the church that Mrs. Stetson built, was one of the chief persons in the fight against Mrs. Stetson several years ago.

The denunciation of Mr. Verrill, who, by the way, is absent on his vacation, has increased significance, because other followers of Mrs. Stetson have made the veiled charge that there is a plan to turn the Christian Science church over to the Catholics.

MENNONITE SEMINARY

Columbus Grove, O., July 17.—With the five different branches of the Mennonite church uniting and establishing a standard college of the institution at Bluffton an interest-bearing endowment of $200,000 has been secured. The faculty has been increased to six members and the necessary buildings and equipment will be constructed. The name of the institution will be changed to Bluffton College and Mennonite Seminary.

COMPLICATIONS THREATENED

Railroads Demand Settlement
Of All Questions.

ERIE ROAD HOLDING ALOOF

Trainmen and Conductors Would Submit the Wage Controversy Only to Arbitration—Any Award Must Apply to the Erie, Garretson Declares. Proceedings of the Joint Conference at New York.

New York, July 17.—Possible complications in the proposed arbitration under the Newlands amendment to the Erdman act of the dispute between the eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen developed when the conference committee of managers submitted a list of demands which they insist must be arbitrated, together with the men's demands for increased wages.

At the joint meeting of the railway managers and the conductors and trainmen no decision was reached, so far as announcement was made, as to whether the trainmen purpose to yield to the railroads' demand that "all questions" of dispute be submitted to arbitration. This demand constitutes one of the most uncertain points in the controversy, as the trainmen regard it with anxiety and may bitterly oppose granting it. The men demand that the wage question only be submitted to arbitration.

Messrs. Lee and Garretson insisted that the Erie must abide by the findings of the arbitration board.

"During the entire negotiations, from January to July 1, at which time strike vote was canvassed," says their statement, "no intimation was given to us that the Erie was not dealing in good faith. The Erie men, therefore, are justified in their contention that whatever award is rendered by arbitration on other roads must also apply to Erie."

"The committeemen of both conductors and trainmen for the Erie system are now in session in New York and will insist upon the inclusion of Erie in the proceedings. Unless the railroad agrees to arbitrate, a strike on the Erie system will be ordered."

APPEAL FOR FOOD

Flood Sufferers Near Marietta, Ohio, In Dire Straits.

Marietta, O., July 17.—Urgent appeals for food and help were received by the Marietta authorities from residents residing along Duck creek. A carload of provisions was at once dispatched to Lowell, from which point it was conveyed in wagons to the flooded district. Hundreds of persons are homeless in Duck Creek valley, according to information reaching here. It is said that about 100 homes were washed away, following the cloudburst and heavy rains. The streams are all receding now.

RECOGNITION OR INTERVENTION?

Administration Takes Up the Mexican Problem.

EUROPEANS REQUEST ACTION

American Ambassador to Mexico Summoned to Washington For a Conference On the Situation—Embassy at Mexico City Hampered by Present Conditions—Rebel Leader Protests Against Recognition.

Washington, July 17.—President Wilson yielded to the foreign pressure for a declaration of policy on Mexico to the extent of directing Secretary Bryan to summon Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, to Washington at once for a conference on the situation. Ambassador Wilson can not reach Washington for at least a week, and it is expected that further developments in the situation as far as Washington is concerned will cease until his arrival.

It is established beyond question that the president's action was due to the action of the diplomatic corps in Mexico City in declaring the United States' attitude toward Mexico a contributory cause of the increasing disorders there and the request from a European government that the Washington government indicate what it intends to do about the situation. In many quarters it was declared that the Wilson administration is now confronted with the alternative of "recognition or intervention."

Ambassador Wilson is personally in favor of the recognition of the present government in Mexico. The embassy is itself greatly hampered in its representations to the government at Mexico City. This government not having recognized Huerta, the embassy can make only informal demands on the Huerta government. President Huerta informed Ambassador Wilson that while Mr. Wilson is welcome personally, he can hardly expect to receive recognition as the ambassador of a government which had not recognized the government with which he is attempting to deal.

The effect which recognition of the Huerta government would have on conditions in Mexico was clearly demonstrated when it became known that Governor Carranza, leader of the only organized revolution in Mexico, telegraphed instructions to his representatives here to protest against consideration of recognition of Huerta.

Mrs. Francisco Madero, widow of the former president of Mexico, is now in Washington. She said, referring to the Huerta government: "I do not believe that traitor's government can last long."

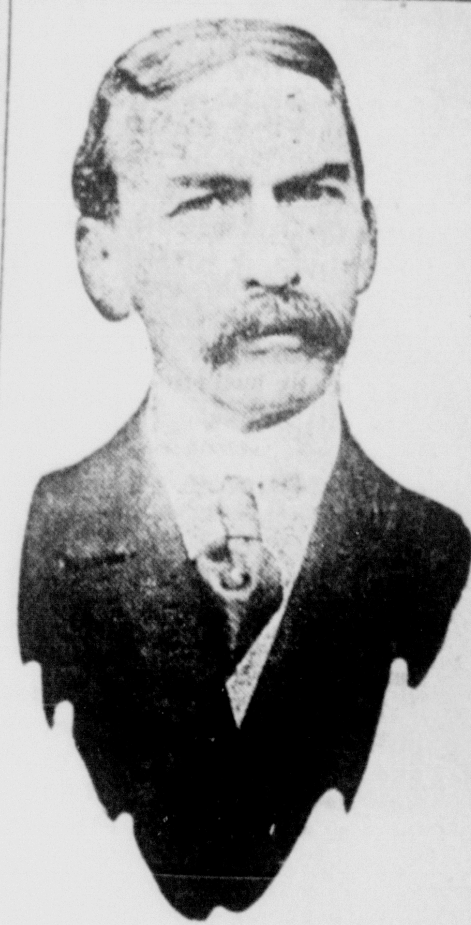

If the president should conclude that it is not necessary to return Mr. Wilson to Mexico, the American embassy there will be left in the charge of Secretary O'Shaughnessy. Thus its status would correspond to that of the Mexican embassy in Washington, which is under the care of Secretary Algar. Recognition of the Huerta regime would be involved in the dispatch to that country of a new ambassador.

BOQUET FOR GAYNOR

New York, July 17.—Mayor Gaynor's administration received the indorsement of a body of prominent citizens who promised to accomplish his renomination. The head of the committee is R. Ross Appleton. Inquiry among the fusion and Tammany leaders indicated that the mayor's nomination by either the Hapgood committee or the regular Democrats is very doubtful.

NO SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT

United States Replies to the Latest Note From Japan.

Washington, July 17.—Secretary of State Bryan handed to Viscount Chinda the answer of the United States to the last note received from the government of Japan in its protest against the California alien land law. The secretary and the ambassador were in conference for about half an hour at the state department. Mr. Bryan and the ambassador both refused to discuss the note and its contents in any way. Mr. Bryan was unwilling to say whether the reply of the United States, which is the second of the series of exchanges, would afford the basis for a settlement of the controversy between the two countries. It is understood that the two governments are really no nearer a settlement of the matter than at the outset.

CLAIM IT IS CORROBORATED

Columbus, O., July 17.—Returning from Cincinnati, where they had been investigating details of forgery confessed by William Martin in securing signatures to the petition for referendum on the workmen's compensation law, Special Counsel C. C. Marshall and P. E. Dempsey of the attorney general's office made claim that they had secured complete corroboration of Martin's story of fraud in connection with the Hamilton and Butler county petitions.

Wallin and David McComb are dying here as the result of ptomaine poisoning, incurred at a dinner in a local restaurant. Fifteen others are seriously ill, and because nine laborers employed on the new federal building were poisoned, building operations were suspended. Every one stricken ate food at the restaurant, and the place was closed.

Eveleth, Minn., July 17.—Ten of the 15 miners imprisoned in the Spruce mine by a cloudburst were rescued. A crew of men under Captain Wilkins is dynamiting the drifts. It is believed the others are still living.

CREDIT GUIDE STILL IN USE

Average Man Who Asks for Credit Probably Does Not Know That His Rating as to Prompt, Slow, or No Pay, is Known to Dealer of Whom He Asks Favor—Credit Guide Keeps Merchant Posted.

Local merchants who possess one of the Credit Experience Guides which gives the credit rating of virtually every man or woman who does a credit business in the city, have found them very valuable in the way of money savers, as the Guide gives them the information who to "trust" and thereby proves a money saver.

The Credit Experience Guide is attaining a wider circulation throughout the country every year, and Springfield merchants are now about to adopt the Guide as a basis for doing a credit business.

In this city many of the merchants secured the rating books several years ago, and since that time the Guide has been brought up to date by frequent additions, so that those who still possess the rating books and consult them are the ones who reap the benefits in dollars and cents.

By the system of rating all individuals as well as firms are put on record showing the number of places they deal, what amount of credit they obtain, and how they pay each firm with which they have credit dealings, being marked "prompt," "fair," "slow" or "no pay" as the case may be, so that when the man drops into a new place and asks for credit and the merchant consults the Credit Experience Guide, he knows at once whether he is taking a risk in extending credit to the man.

The object of the system is to show all men in their true light, and only the man who disregards the confidence of the man with whom he deals has an objection to the system.

One man explaining the system used here says: "There are many persons not intentionally slow in paying their accounts, but are neglectful, and when they understand that they must be rated, they will endeavor to secure the best rating possible, and will be more prompt instead of allowing their bills to accumulate."

During the several years in which the Guide has been used here it has been a safeguard against loss to the man who has used it conscientiously.

THE MOTORCYCLE AS A FACTOR FOR GOOD ROADS

Every one knows the wonderful influence that the automobile has exerted in the development of good roads. But the automobile at its best influences the support of a limited class, and good roads, to become a reality, need the help of a majority of the people.

Under these circumstances the advent of the motorcycle, which opened up possibilities of travel to millions of people, has given to the movement for good roads the greatest impetus it ever had. These millions, most of them, had heretofore been largely indifferent to road problems. They used roads little themselves, and one of the hardest things in the world is to get one man excited over another man's troubles.

But now all this is changed. The very class formerly hardest to interest in good roads is the class that has now most enthusiastically adopted the motorcycle.

The farmer's son, the physician, the minister, the salaried worker in the cities and towns—every pleasant evening or holiday sees the roads dotted with motorcycles bearing them, their wives, their children or their sweethearts out into the open spaces where change of scene and change of air bring new vigor into their lives.

The results are already apparent in an increased agitation for good roads everywhere. And motorcycle manufacturers are lending their best efforts to the cause.

Kenneth M. Jacoby, president and general manager of the Miami Cycle & Manufacturing Company, Middletown, Ohio, expressed the feeling of the manufacturer the other day when he said in an interview with a good roads "missionary":

"I cannot express too strongly the earnest sympathy of this company, as a representative manufacturer of bicycles and motorcycles, with every movement looking to the betterment of our highway system and the freedom thereof. In season and out we are advocating the establishment everywhere of good, substantial roads that will make easier the farmer's haul to and from market, and that will make possible to all our people the broadening influence of comfortable travel."

With practically every class of our population now united in their favor, it is safe to say that the next few years will witness an amount of road building and repairing hitherto unprecedented.

CHARMED BY MUSIC, SNAKE FREES VICTIM

Wrapped Around Man, It Loosens Coils as Girl Plays.

Punxsutawney, Pa.—With the coils of a python twenty-five feet long tightening gradually around his body, James Harvey Stenger, manager for a carnival company, escaped being crushed to death only through the power of music to soothe the reptile after the efforts of six men had failed to dislodge it.

Mr. Stenger was superintending the unloading of a box of snakes when the python escaped. For an instant the reptile seemed to be dazed, and as Mr. Stenger took a stick and tried to push it through a door into a big glass case the snake turned like a flash. In an instant the python entwined itself around Mr. Stenger, pinning his arms to his sides.

Six men went to Mr. Stenger's aid and attempted to pull the snake from his body. The folds of the big reptile, however, only drew closer, and Mr. Stenger was on the verge of a collapse when Mlle. La Boneto, who owns the reptile, appeared with a flagolet between her lips.

Stationing herself near the snake, she began to play a low, weird melody, at the same time swaying her body to and fro gently. Raising its head, the python began to sway in rhythm with the player and the music, and gradually loosening its folds from Mr. Stenger, it coiled on the ground with its head swinging from side to side.

Slowly approaching the snake, Mlle. La Boneto, still playing gently, forced it into the glass cage. In the meantime Mr. Stenger, who had toppled over unconscious when released from the folds of the snake, was revived and found to be uninjured.

The Old Man's Hint.
Mother (at 11:30 p. m.)—What's the matter, John? You look disturbed.
Father—I thought I'd give that young man calling on our daughter a vigorous hint it was time to go, so I walked right into the parlor and deliberately turned out the gas.
Mother—Oh, my! And did he get angry?
Father—Angry? The young jackanapes said "Thank you!"—Boston Transcript.

CREAMERY IS NOW AT FULL CAPACITY

New Enterprise Turning Out From 4,000 to 5,000 Pounds of Butter Each Week and Investors Are Greatly Pleased With Results—Said to be One of the Best Paying Enterprises That Every Located Here.

"The best paying enterprise for the amount of money invested that ever located in the city" is the way one of the men interested in the Fayette Creamery Company speaks of the enterprise.

The complete success of the creamery in this city has far surpassed the expectations of virtually every one, and stock is now considerably above par, and is still increasing in value.

The creamery is now running almost at capacity every day, turning out 4,000 to 5,000 pounds of the highest class butter every week, and there is always a ready market for the fine product. At the present rate of increase in business additional equipment must soon be installed which will double the capacity of the plant.

Those who were skeptical about the success of the venture are realizing that there is now no longer doubt about the creamery being a great success and a benefit to the community.

Everything about the creamery is high class, and every precaution has been taken to make the plant sanitary.

The plant has been in operation a little over two months.

MEMOIR.

Georgia Hillery, the first child and only daughter of Margaret Holland Hillery and James Hillery, was born November 5, 1891, died July 11, 1913.

To this union 4 children were born, three little brothers remaining to comfort the father and mother.

She lived here all her life, a life too short, but one of much beauty. Those who knew her best loved her most. Very obedient to parents and all superiors, quite talented in music, Georgia graduated from the Washington C. H. High school with a class of 32 in 1910. Of this class she is the first to be called. She at once began her chosen profession, that of training the little minds entrusted in her care. She taught one and one-half years in the East End schools of our city and was an exceptionally successful teacher. It was with the utmost regret that the school management received her resignation, owing to ill health last December. She loved her work and not until many weeks of sickness came upon her, was she willing to resign. There came no words of complaint and when the heaviest cross of sickness was laid upon her, with a beautiful spirit the brave young girl yielded to the inevitable, leaving to her family a rare memory of patience and sweetness.

There is no flock, however watched and tended,

But one dead lamb is there.
There is no fireside, however defended
But has one vacant chair.

She is not dead, the child of our affection,

But gone unto that school
Where she no longer needs our poor protection;
And Christ Himself doth rule.

In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion,

By guardian angels led;
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,
She lives but whom we call dead.

Not as a child shall we again behold her,

For when with raptures wild,
In our embrace we again unfold her,
She will not be a child.

But a fair angel in her Father's mansion,

Clothed with celestial grace;
And beautiful with all the soul's expansion,

Shall we behold her face.

Let us be patient, these severe afflictions

Not from the ground arise,
But oftimes celestial benedictions
Assume this dark disguise.

MAN DROWNED BY FISH.

Tries to Swim River Carrying Forty Pounds of Them.

Newton, N. J.—Harry C. Pitman, eighteen years old, was drowned in trying to swim the Paulskill river with a catch of forty pounds of all kinds of fish strung about his neck. He went down in the whirlpool near the Stillwater bridge, while friends who thought his cries for help were in fun laughed at him. They answered his second frantic cry, but too late.

Pitman went spearing fish with Edward Huff of Hardwick township, by whom he was employed, and Lester Huff, brother of Edward. They had good luck, and at 2:30 o'clock decided they had enough to "call it a night." Pitman suggested that they swim back and started first.

Bedford, Ind.—J. W. Mundy of this city sheds the nails from his toes every two years, and this has occurred since he was a child. When asked to see his foot, Mr. Mundy bared his left foot and showed the old nails, barely hanging to the toes, and the new nails growing under the old ones.

FIRES REVOLVER FRIGHTENS PROWLERS

Two men who were hanging about the Dahl-Millikan wholesale house in a suspicious manner were put to flight when special officer Haggard dropped into the alley on his regular rounds Tuesday night.

The men, according to Officer Haggard, were apparently examining the entrance to one of the warehouses, and when they beheld him they started to run. He pursued them until it became evident that they would get away unless halted by his gun, so pulling the weapon he called for the fleeing men to halt and when they did not he fired twice in the air, which served to increase their speed and they escaped in the railroad yards.

TAYLOR STURGEON FIGURES IN RACES

Taylor Sturgeon, owned by Ed Sever, of this city, is making a reputation for himself in the equine world. Today he races at Lima and Tuesday's Times-Democrat has a great cartoon of Taylor Sturgeon, the sensational plow horse of 1913, as he "would imitate a circus performer when he was given opportunity to free himself."

The Lima Daily News says: "Ringer!" "Ringer!" whispered a number of horsemen at the Springfield races last week after Taylor Sturgeon (2:17½), a green trotter owned by Crone & Sever, of this city, had won three straight heats in the 2:30 trot in a field of eight good ones. But Taylor Sturgeon was not a ringer; he is simply a surprise to everybody. When he shut out five of the starters in the first heat, it was natural to suppose that many would regard him as a ringer. The first race ever trotted by Taylor Sturgeon!

was at Dayton week before last, when he won the heats in one, two, three order in the 2:30 trot in a bunch of six likely trotters, his best time in that race being 2:20½. At Springfield last week his best time was 2:16¾.

Steve Phillips, the veteran driver, who, at the advanced age of 68 years, seems as good as the game as ever piloted the remarkable Taylor Sturgeon to victory.

SIXTEEN DEATHS FIFTEEN BIRTHS

During the month of June there were 16 deaths and 15 births in Washington and Union township, as shown by the district registrar's books.

In this city the number of births exceeded the number of deaths by three.

PUT YOURSELF BEYOND REACH OF WANT

You can do this by making a small purchase of Fruit Land at North Yakima, Washington. 10 acres after 4 years' growth of fruit trees are CONSERVATIVELY worth $10,000. You cannot buy adjoining 4-year-old orchards at less than $2000 per acre. Maynard & Co. will plant and care for your land for four years and the returns from the ground and fruit crops in that time will MORE than pay for the land. After that you can safely expect an annual income of $5000, which will increase with years. Don't listen to doubting Thomas in this matter, but rather let us PROVE our statements. Do not confound this proposition with any other deal you have ever heard about—it's different—safe, sure, unequalled, surely a chance of a life time for the cautious, discriminating investor.

On August 21 a special excursion will tour the West, stopping at all principal cities and points of interest, including a thorough inspection of North Yakima Lands. The expense entire will be $250 per person. To every person purchasing 20 acres I will refund the entire expense of trip, $250. On 10 acre purchase I will refund one-half the expense and on 5 acre purchase I will refund one-fourth the expense. Personally I am the owner of 20 acres of North Yakima land, 10 acres purchased a year ago and 10 acres purchased 2 months ago. In addition to receiving already returns from the land far greater than the best of Ohio lands produce, I have refused an advance of $50 an acre over and above the cost of my land. What I have done you may all do if you accept this opportunity.

Monroe Doctrine on Test

The long expected has happened, and as a consequence the administration of President Wilson faces the most serious duty which has thus far been encountered.

Great Britain and Germany, with Japan in the immediate background have stated, in a formal note which bears no construction save that of an ultimatum, that the United States government must act in restoring order and protecting property in Mexico or they will act for themselves.

The time has come, say the big nations of Europe when the lives and the property of their citizens must no longer be subject to the caprice of the irresponsible and revolutionary crazed Mexican. You must protect them or we will, is the kernel of the ultimatum received at the State Department at Washington.

Whether Japan, the ally of England, stung by the California incident is the instigator of the movement matters not.

It is now a subject of common understanding that Mexico is without a government worthy of the name and that business is paralyzed and hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property has been and is being destroyed by irresponsible bands of semi-civilized marauders and brigands.

German subjects alone have over one billion dollars invested in Mexican property. What remains of that property, undestroyed or not confiscated by the hands of brigands is useless and the owners either driven from the land or subject to all sorts of indignities and mistreatment.

What is true of Germany is true of nearly every other nation in proportion to the activities of its subjects in Mexico.

If the Monroe Doctrine is to be upheld the United States must act. This government cannot much longer expect European nations to rest passive while the lives and property of their subjects are being needlessly sacrificed.

It matters not what nation initiated the movement which has resulted in the lodging of a formal demand for action. It is the stern fact of conditions in Mexico which this nation must recognize and with which it must deal decisively if the Monroe Doctrine stands for anything.

Conditions in Mexico and not the nations now demanding protection for their subjects, are responsible for the test and the test must be met.

Better the Conditions For Getting Right Kind of Men on the Bench

By CHARLES S. CUTTING, Judge of the Probate Court of Chicago

THE AMERICAN COURTS NEED NOT FACILITIES FOR REMOVING MEN FROM THE BENCH SO MUCH AS THEY NEED CONDITIONS WHICH WILL ATTRACT THE RIGHT MEN TO THE BENCH. IN NO AMERICAN CITY DO THE LEADERS OF THE BAR SEEK POSITIONS ON THE BENCH IN THE STATE COURTS. IN NO AMERICAN CITY AND IN BUT FEW PLACES IN THE COUNTRY CAN THE CALIBER OF MAN WHO SHOULD BE PLACED IN JUDICIAL POSITION ACCEPT THAT POSITION WITHOUT PECUNIARY SACRIFICE.

The general superiority of the personnel of the federal bench is conceded, and, although the COMPENSATION THERE IS PITIFULLY SMALL, the permanency of the position and the honor connected therewith attract many men of high character and attainments who leave lucrative practice or state positions paying much higher salaries.

I think most men who are familiar with judicial affairs would agree that an election by the people for a TERM CONTINUING DURING GOOD BEHAVIOR, the person so elected to be subject to recall whenever there was a popular demand for that particular thing, where the plain question of recall or no recall, unmixed with the question of the election of a successor at the same time, would be a vast improvement over other conditions.

If such an election for the recall of a judge were to be held SEPARATELY FROM GENERAL ELECTIONS, to be unmixed with general political questions, and only the question of the FITNESS OR UNFITNESS of the particular judge was before the people, no judge could object thereto.

American Women Most Beautiful

By PAUL HELLEU, Famous French Etcher and Painter

THE AMERICAN WOMEN ARE THE MOST BEAUTIFUL IN THE WORLD. THERE IS THE GREATEST QUANTITY OF BEAUTIES THERE, AND ALSO THE LARGEST PROPORTION OF THE WOMEN ARE BEAUTIFUL.

I found beauty as common among the middle classes and the poor working people as on Fifth avenue, and shop-girl beauty is just as noticeable as that of society women.

The SOCIETY WOMEN ARE NOT COLD, as is thought by the French. They are enthusiastic, only they display an exclusive taste in emotions. They are as well dressed as the Parisiennes and are FAR HEALTHIER, taking more baths. They have at once the force of health and the grace of feebleness.

Poetry For Today

THE CITY.

There's a brave world I know called
The Great Out-o'-Doors,
Where the wind and the wave lure
our feet,
And the green o' the field meets the wan, tired eyes
With the touch and the kiss o' a lost paradise;
Where the chickadee calls and the wild eagle soars,
And the lark trills his sweetest o'
sweet;
But give me the city;
Its pain and its pity,
Its highways and byways o' heat.

Oh, a man may live on a hilltop alone,
Where the days are a-wing on a song,
But he'll never sound depths that are human and deep
By running away from the herd o'
the sheep.
By shutting his heart to the tear and the groan
O' the lovable suffering throng.
So give me the city,
Its grief and its pity,
Its spendthrift, its weak and its strong.

Oh, here is the Kingdom of Fair
Worlds to Be
When the peace-riders come silver shod.
For there isn't a cavil, when all's said
and done,
That the Maker in making Meant All
To Be One.
As the streams of the nation that merge in one sea
And move at the wind of His nod.
So hail the World-City,
Its pride and its pity,
That's built on the high road o'
God.

—Gordon Johnstone

ROOSTER INJURES BOY.

One Eye Picked Out as He Tried to Protect Sister.

South Norwalk, Conn.—Mabel, the four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grier Lunt of this place, was knocked down by a rooster, and her brother Victor, one year her senior, who went to her rescue, had one eye picked out and the other one seriously injured.

Mabel had gone to collect eggs in the henry when the rooster, a large Plymouth Rock, pounced on her and bore her to the ground. The rooster's spurs lacerated her arms and legs, and she cried out in pain. Had she not held her arm over her face she might have fared the same as did her brother.

Her screams brought Victor to her side. He attempted to fight the rooster, only to be knocked down and seriously injured. The children's parents hurried to the scene. The father chopped off the head of the rooster and threw him in the river.

Physicians hope to save Victor's right eye, but the left is gone entirely.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

The Reading Railroad company has awarded the contract for a concrete arch bridge at Salford Station, Pa., over the Backsheel river to take the place of the last wooden trestle on the line.

31 vacation schools, having a 6 weeks' course are attended by 14,000 pupils and are provided by the Chicago Board of Education. 21 are grammar grades, 7 open-air schools and 3 are devoted to special work. Most of the vacation school work consists of manual training such as sewing, cooking, games, housekeeping, art, and kindred subjects. The summer schools were started for the purpose of helping those who had fallen behind in their work but it was quickly decided on a broader scope and plan a more useful vacation for all.

In California, women voters have just succeeded in getting the red light injunction and abatement bill passed, despite opposition from the slave traders, saloonkeepers and the city of San Francisco, a red light district. The bill penalizes owners of houses used for immoral purposes, and thus strikes at the roots of the profits of white slavery.

Over 53,000,000 long tons of iron were moved in the United States last year. This is equal to about 1200 pounds per capita of the population. "There's iron in everything," must be true.

When President Wilson was informed that the Senate Finance Committee had increased duties on the tariff bill on works of art and books he expressed surprise and concern. He believes these articles are more educational than luxuries. It was indicated that the President may consult senators on a change.

The Ohio Workmen's Compensation fund has paid out $56,544 for claims between January 13 and June 30 this year and the sum on hand at the end of June was $473,478.

Boston women suffragists will start today on an expedition that will include a visit to the summer White House at Cornisa, N. H. An endeavor will be made there to get the signature of Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Jessie Wilson, both of whom have expressed sympathy with the suffrage cause, to a petition which is to be presented to Congress July 30.

Mayor Harrison's ordinance for the appointment of 10 city patrolwomen in Chicago was recommended for passage by the Council committee on schools today, which action is said to insure its passage. The women will be assigned to the bathing beaches and to play grounds.

By some keen detective work, Wm Beck, a typical New Yorker, of his class, was caught after he had robbed his employers, a firm of 5th avenue jewelers of gems, worth $100,000. He earned $14 a week, but wanted to be a sport. He dressed in what might be called the fashion and aped the wealthy he noticed all day long on the avenue. He soon found that $14 a week could not keep him going, so he began to steal small amounts. He will likely get about 7 years at Sing Sing.

Los Angeles municipal markets have broken the prices of the mid-dlemen. The first day all the products were disposed of before 10 o'clock, and it is claimed, prices will be lower when the competition becomes keener. The following shows what the market means to the people: Cabbage, 1 cent a head; onions, 3 pounds for 10 cents; new potatoes, 15 pounds for 25 cents; canteloupes, 5 for 10 cents; raspberries, 5 cents a quart; peas, 3 pounds for 10 cents.

MAN MAY HAVE BEAUTY.

Board of Arbitration Gives Damages For Loss of It.

Danville, Ill.—A board of arbitration in the case of a machinist, Charles Chick, against the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, under the compensation law, has decided that a man can possess beauty and obtain damages for loss of it.

Chick was struck in the eye by a piece of steel last September when at work. The pupil was destroyed, and he asked damages for loss of time, for the handicap by reason of loss of the eye and loss of beauty.

The railway company claimed that a man does not possess such a thing as beauty, but the board decided Chick's appearance had been damaged $200 and that he suffered $500 more in damages to his eye and in loss of time.

The board was comprised of five attorneys named by the court and was headed by Arthur Hall, famous University of Illinois football coach.

A GLIMPSE BACK THROUGH YEARS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

November 17, 1870.

No less than 125 dwellings have been built and are at present in process of construction in Washington during this season. R. Lanum is building 19 or 20 dwelling houses in the suburbs for sale. Mark Allen is putting up a substantial frame building for a carpenter shop at the corner of Market and Fayette streets.

I have for sale one hand loom. By the turning of a crank it lets the warp off, winds up the cloth, treads the treadles, and throws the shuttle; it weaves jeans, linen tweed, double plain and various kinds of ribbed goods, twills of all kinds, flax, cotton, tow and wool, bagging, hemp and rag carpets. It is small, not much larger than a common breakfast table. Inquire of Edward Birmingham, at A. Hamilton and Company's shoe store.

BONDS TO MAKE THIS A HAPPY MARRIAGE

Parents of Couple Make Pledges to Guarantee Good Conduct.

Canton, O.—An ironclad agreement, backed by bonds pledging a $700 farm and $700 in cash put up by their respective fathers, promises to insure the wedded bliss of Miss Elizabeth Boidi, seventeen years, and Casian Bartt, Jr., twenty, of Youngstown.

The young people themselves have no doubt in their minds that they will get along together. They have sworn eternal love to each other and declare that the agreement and the bonds are entirely superfluous. But the parents, noting the increase of divorce and the fact that there are many pitfalls for the feet of unwary married young people, decided to do all they could in a legal way to make the marriage knot so tight that it can never be untied.

By the terms of the agreement Bartt's father promises that his son will never loaf, gamble, drink, play pool or dance with any young woman other than his wife. He pledges a $700 farm. The bride's father has deposited a cash bond of $700 with a bank that his daughter will make a model wife, will not gossip, run around with other men and will cook to the husband's satisfaction.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Runaway Girl Betrayed by Kiss.
Lima, O., July 17.—A kiss betrayed pretty Margaret Bacorn, a 17-year-old runaway girl from Bucyrus, here. After leaving Bucyrus Miss Bacorn arranged for a meeting here with her fiancé, Robert Dismore, 24, of Bucyrus. They expected to be married. Dismore notified the Lima police and as he stepped from the train he kissed the young girl. Police arrested her and sent her back to her home in Bucyrus.

Seneca County Without Court.
Columbus, O., July 17.—Seneca county will likely be without a common pleas court next year. It has just been discovered that the law passed last winter, which was senate bill No. 188, providing a common pleas court for each county in the state, Seneca county is not mentioned at all. In place of the provision for that county, two provisions for Scioto county are made. Manifestly this is a clerical error.

Grandmother Saves Child's Life.
Bellefontaine, O., July 17.—An end of a gold chain worn about the neck of Dwight Goodheart, 6, became entangled in a revolving grindstone here. As the chain sank into the boy's flesh his face blackened and his eyes bulged out. His aged grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Goodheart, seized a butcherknife and, cutting into the back of his neck, severed the chain. She saved his life.

Garbage Drivers Strike.
Cincinnati, O., July 17.—No garbage is being collected in Cincinnati on account of a strike of the 125 drivers employed by the Union Reduction company, which recently assumed the contract of the former Cincinnati Reduction company. The men asked for an increase in salary from $10.80 a week to $13 a week.

Spinster Kills Self With Gas.
Barnesville, O., July 17.—Miss Rebecca Fred, 55, who lived with her brother-in-law, G. E. Hilles, a druggist, was found dead in the basement of their residence, where she had committed suicide by inhaling natural gas through a rubber tube which she had placed in her mouth.

Couldn't Swim.
Cambridge, O., July 17.—Diving from a bridge over Mills creek, near here, to join several of his companions who were bathing, Albert Malson, 22, Pennsylvania railroad trainman, came to the surface, but was unable to swim and sunk before his companions could rescue him.

Suicide Declared a Forger.
Marion, O., July 17.—At a hearing held here by state examiners it developed that Isaac Osburn, 60, township clerk for 20 years, who committed suicide last week, had forged the names of merchants and contractors to vouchers which he cashed. The amounts run into the thousands. It was also learned that Osburn raised vouchers and carried dummy school teachers on the payroll. He took carbolic acid after the inspectors began examining his books.

Widow of Collis P. Huntington Weds Nephew of Late Husband.
Paris, July 17.—Mrs. Arabella D. Huntington, widow of Collis P. Huntington, the American railroad magnate, who died in 1900, was married to Henry E. Huntington, 63, a nephew of her late husband. The ceremony was performed at the American church here. The marriage brings together again into one family fund the greater part of the fortune made by the railroad man in Southern Pacific. Mrs. Huntington was about 30 years younger than her first husband, who was born 92 years ago.

High School Boys Who Desired To Be High-Class Crooks.
New York, July 17.—Two high school boys, indicted for burglary and robbery, told Assistant District Attorney Koenig that they began a career of scientific crime to get money to pay their way through college as a preliminary to a life as high-class crooks. To do this they ready every dramatic of crime and read the confessions of thieves. The boys are Louis Koenig and Nathan Koshelle, both 16 years old. They pleaded guilty to an indictment charging them with holding up Benjamin Friedman and stealing $2,200 worth of gold flings from him. In every case in which the boys figured in robberies they carried revolvers and wore black masks.

IMPORTERS AWAITING REDUCTION OF TARIFF.
New York, July 17.—Imports amounting to more than $70,000,000 are stored in the bonded warehouses of New York, waiting for the reduction of duties in the proposed tariff law. On July 1 the merchandise in bond amounted to only $64,000,000. It is estimated that by the time the new tariff law goes into effect the total will be more than $100,000,000.

TO STOP IMPERSONATIONS.

Cummins Bill Would Jail Men Guilty of Lamar's Trick.

Washington.—With a view to stopping the practice of impersonating members of congress and other public officials, which practice was brought to the attention of the senate today investigating committee by the confession of David Lamar, senator Cummins of Iowa, member of the committee, has introduced in the senate a bill whose object is to deal with persons guilty of such misrepresentation. The Cummins bill would make practically impossible the impersonation of members of congress, such as that in which Lamar engaged, using the names of Representatives Palmer and Rorand for the purpose of driving Judge Robert S. Lovett and other bankers into employing Edward Lauterbach as their counsel. Despite the confessed deceptive and fraudulent nature of the plot engineered by Lamar, there is no law to reach it.

Under the Cummins bill impersonation over the phone or otherwise by any person of a member of congress or other public official will be made a felony, punishable by imprisonment of from three to five years, a maximum fine of $10,000, or both fine and imprisonment. Similarly, impersonation over the phone or any one conversing from one state to another will be made a felony.

Teachers Petition British King to Pardon Mrs. Pankhurst.
London, July 17.—The pardon of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the militant suffragettes, who is serving a three-year sentence in Holloway jail, is requested in a petition sent to the king signed by 474 teachers and graduates of the London university. The petitioners say the jury which convicted Mrs. Pankhurst made a strong recommendation for mercy, that she is of high personal character and her motives are disinterested, and that the state of her health makes it almost certain that death will result if she is kept in prison.

Washington, July 17.—President Wilson is confident that the tariff bill will have been passed by congress and signed by him by Sept. 1. He believes that the outlook for the measure in the senate, as described to him by friends of the administration, justifies this expectation.

COX A SPEAKER

Governor's Day at the Lorain Centennial Celebration.
Lorain, O., July 17.—Governor's day was celebrated at the Lorain centennial commemorating Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's victory over the British in the battle of Lake Erie. Governor Cox attended and spoke concerning the 100 years' peace existing between the United States and Great Britain. The governor, Congressman Sharpe and other notables inspected the brig Niagara, Perry's restored flagship, which is anchored in the river. A new lake liner was launched with Governor Cox attending the festivities.

PLAN TO ABOLISH CONVICT LEASING

Alabama System Is Declared to Be Inhuman.

Birmingham, Ala.—With the purpose of taking all of the thousands of Alabama convicts out of the mines, lumber mills and turpentine camps a state wide movement to abolish the obnoxious lease system is in progress, participated in by the best element of citizenship in the state. At a great mass meeting addresses were made picturing the greed, fraud and cruelty of the system, and announcement was made that it would be a fight to a finish between the state's humanitarian spirit on the one side and corporations and professional politicians on the other.

The spirit of the movement was embodied in the question "Shall we send the man who has served his sentence back home a better citizen or drive him to slavery and criminal mania?" Instances were cited where men had been sentenced to long terms at mine labor for shooting craps, neglecting to work on the roads and stealing rides on trains.

Mrs. Julia Tutwiler, noted for her work for prison reform in the south, sent a message of indorsement, in which she pleaded for night schools for convicts, humane hygienic conditions and other reforms tending to make the life of the man in stripes endurable.

An executive committee was appointed to carry the fight into all of the sixty-seven counties of the state and pave the way for a deciding battle in the next legislature. Captain Frank S. White of Birmingham, former chairman of the Democratic state executive committee and for years general counsel of the mine workers of Alabama, was made chairman of the committee. Twenty other representative men of influence throughout the state will help in a whirlwind campaign. In addition each county will have a strong committee.

For years there has been talk of ugly treatment of the convicts in the mines, lumber camps and turpentine mills. In half a dozen or more explosions in coal mines within a few years a hundred or more convicts had been killed. But nobody seemed to worry over their fate. The state leases about a thousand convicts to several large coal mining and lumber industries and nets from it over half a million dollars a year after feeding, clothing and guarding the men. An average of thirty dollars a month is paid to the state. Each convict is required to do a certain task.

FINDS HEARSE AT STATION.

Woman Supposed to Be Dead Changes Plans For Funeral.

Bellefontaine, O.—When Mrs. George W. Carr of Yellow Springs alighted from a train at West Liberty recently she was surprised to see a hearse, an undertaker and carriages, one being occupied by her mother and a clergyman, awaiting her coming. She found she was supposed to have died and that the hearse was to take her body to West Liberty cemetery.

A mistake in a telegram was the cause. Mrs. Carr's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Shumate, received a telegram saying Mrs. Carr had died Monday night and that the body would arrive at West Liberty.

Mrs. Shumate had received a letter previously in which Mrs. Carr said she would visit her mother. Mrs. Shumate was prostrated when the supposed death message came. Her husband died suddenly a year ago, and her son passed away without warning recently, and she supposed her last remaining child was also dead. When Mrs. Carr stepped from the train alive and well there was a pathetic reunion. Many friends of Mrs. Carr were also at the depot, for the village newspaper had published a column obituary notice.

Pittsburgh, July 17.—W. S. Kuhn severed all his banking connections following the closing of the First-Second National bank by the com-protroller of the currency. Together with his brother J. S. Kuhn, he re-signed from the Colonial Trust com-pany and the Commonwealth Trust company. Altogether three banks were closed and receivers appointed for seven big corporations with which the Kuhns were affiliated. The crash came when the comptroller of the currency discovered about $2,000,000 discrepancy between the report filed by the First-Second National bank with his department and that pub-lished by the bank in the newspapers.

BEER MAKES MAN BARK.

Victim of His Own Imagination, Fear-ing Attack of Rabies.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—George McGowan, formerly of Dansville, N. Y., who suf-fered with rabies last March, but, ac-cording to a newspaper clipping found in a pocket, was cured at Albany, drank a glass of beer and later awoke the neighborhood in the vicinity of his room by barking and yelping.

Investigating, the citizens found Mc-Gowan on all fours, alternately biting at the table leg and snapping at any one who came his way.

A physician and three policemen overpowered the man and took him to a hospital. Specialists in rabies de-clared the case was not one of hydro-phobia, but hysteria; that the man lived in constant fear of rabies and was the victim of his own imagination. They ascribed the attack to the effect of the beer.

McGowan is now comfortable and will recover.

OTT CASES ARE CARRIED TO COMMON PLEAS COURT

Petitions in error were filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday evening in the cases of Ohio against Margaret Ott, wherein the defendant was found guilty in Mayor Creath's court on charges of selling intoxic-ants contrary to law.

The petitions in error were filed by Gregg, Patton and Gregg and nine causes are cited in which error is al-leged by the defendant. Bond in the sum of $200 was filed in each case.

The case coming up from Mayor Creath's court is one of more than and the costs is still in the county passing interest, as the charges were filed by J. O. Carson, who was at that time a member of the Burns de-tective agency in the employ of the Law and Order League. The defend-ant was found guilty of both charges and fined $100 and the costs for the first offense and $200 and the costs for the second offense.

The Ott case is the only one which has been carried up, part of the other persons charged with offenses being released when the detectives failed to appear against them.

Alfred Brown, who was fined $100 and the costs is still in the county jail.

PORCUPINE TO BE DISPLAYED

Another of Perry's Ships Discovered and Fitted Up.

Cleveland.—The Porcupine, another vessel of the fleet which, under Com-modore Perry, defeated the British fleet in the battle of Lake Erie in the war of 1812, has been discovered and is being repaired to take part in the centennial celebrations of Perry's vic-tory.

Raised from the shore of the lake eight years ago and hauled ashore by Charles G. Bolthouse, the Porcupine is being refitted by Mr. Bolthouse and his cousin, B. J. Renner, of Cleveland.

After the battle of Lake Erie the Porcupine was used in the government revenue service on the great lakes until 1830, when she was sold at auc-tion to Senator Ferry of Michigan. Senator Ferry rebuilt the boat and used her in the lumber trade until 1847. Unfit for further use, the Porcu-pine was turned adrift and later float-ed into the harbor of Grand River, Mich., and sunk.

FACING TORTURES.

The Sublime Courage Shown by an American Indian.

WILLING TO DIE FOR ANOTHER.

Story of a Dramatic Episode in Which the Iowa and Musquakie Tribes Figure.—Heroism That Won the Admiration of the Enemy.

A striking story of the courage and self sacrifice of which the American Indian at his best is capable is given by O. H. Mills in the Des Moines Reg-ister and Leader. It was told to the white men by the famous Sac chief, Black Hawk, who himself saw the in-cident.

It all began with an unfortunate quarrel between an Iowa and a Mus-quakie, in which the latter killed the former and then in a moment of fren-zy scalped his victim. The two tribes were at peace, and this act, allowable only in time of war, was, in Indian eyes, an intolerable breach of good faith.

The Musquakies offered all sorts of paration, but the Iowas would ac-cept nothing but the person of the of-fender, to be tortured and put to death in propitiation of the outraged spirit of the dead man. To this the Musqua-kies agreed on condition that the cul-pit be given a month to fortify him-self for his terrible ordeal. But just as the month was about to expire he fell ill with a raging fever. In that condition he could not be carried across the prairie, but a failure to produce him at the appointed place would arouse the suspicions and perhaps the hostility of the Iowas.

A council was called to debate the matter, before which appeared Cono, a brother of the sick man. "There are no squaw men in our family," he de-clared. "I will go in his place."

The others tried to dissuade him and described to him the tortures he would have to undergo, but he insisted upon making the sacrifice. Accordingly an escort was selected to accompany him, at the head of which Black Hawk, then a young but widely respected chief, was placed.

"I never saw a more pathetic scene," said Black Hawk, "than the parting of Cono and his father and mother and other relatives. The whole tribe was overwhelmed with gloom."

In the middle of the afternoon the party arrived at the Iowas' village. Cono had asked that his identity should not be disclosed, but one of the Iowas who was present at the time the young Indian was slain saw that the guilty party was not being delivered, and Black Hawk told the whole story. The Iowas accepted it as true and, after a brief council, consented to the arrange-ment. The death circle was staked out and patrolled with armed guards, and Cono was placed in its center, while his escort was entertained in the tepee of the chief. It was a chill November day, and the sun was just sinking behind the cliffs of the Des Moines river when the escort left the camp.

They paused on a hill about a half mile distant from the camp. They could see that the fires had been lighted round the death circle, and in the hush of the evening came the plaintive sound of Cono chanting his death song.

Having traveled some two hours, they halted and made camp. About midnight they heard the clatter of horses' feet, and in a moment more a single horseman rode up. It was Cono! This was his remarkable story.

The fires of the death circle were burning brightly, and the squaws with their burning sticks were preparing to make the first attempt to extort a cry of pain and agony, when an old man, the father of the dead Indian, raised his voice.

"Stop!" he said. "Let me speak. I am the one that has suffered. My son was killed and scalped by a Musqua-kie. I was hungry for revenge, and were the one that killed and scalped him here I would shout with joy at his torture. But this young man is brave. Never have I seen such bravery before. He is too good a man to torture and kill. Release him and let him return to his own people."

Although the entire village a few hours before had been eager for re-venge, there was a murmur of approv-al as the old man gathered his blanket about him and took his seat. Without any one's making a single objection, Cono was removed from the circle and given food and drink. A few hours later he was led from the camp, allow-ed to mount his own pony and depart in peace.

Persuasive.

The teacher meant to convey a pro-found lesson. "You must forgive your enemies, boys," she said, "and then your enemies will forgive you. I want you all to try it."

The next morning Johnny Jones came to school with a very black eye. "Why, Johnny, what's the matter?" "Aw," replied Johnny, "I've been for-got a Scrappy Green an' makin' him forgive me." Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Willing to Try.

Mary: The butcher is here, ma'am. What shall I order? Mrs. Morris Parke:—Dear me, I haven't a thought. What can I order? Mary (thoughtful-ly)—I really don't know, ma'am, I'm sure. Mrs. Morris Parke:—Oh, can't you make a suggestion? Mary (cheer-fully) I can try. What do you make it of?—Puck.

If you make money your god, I will plague you like a devil. Fielding Getting Used to It.

"How are you getting on in society?" "Pretty well," replied Mr. Cumrox. "I am much more at home in my own house than I used to be. When we have a reception now people very sel-dom drag me up and try to introduce me to my wife and daughters."—Washington Star.

An Invitation.

"I suppose," he ventured, "that you would never speak to me again if I were to kiss you?"

"Oh, George!" she exclaimed. "Why don't you get over the habit of always looking at the worst side of things?"—London Tit-Bits.

Rather Ambiguous.

TRIS SPEAKER IS GREATEST OUTFIELDER OF ALL TIME, SAYS MANAGER GRIFFITH

Boston, July 17.—Tris Speaker is the greatest outfielder in the game, according to Manager Clark Griffith of the Washington team. In all his many years' experience, Griffith says, he has never seen an outfielder who is classed with Speaker. "Speaker is the only outfielder I have ever seen who knows how to play center field," remarked Griffith recently. "He can go to either side for drives which no other fielder would reach, while it is next to impossible to drop a Texas leaguer into his territory. What is more, he is right behind every play on the infield and saves his team many runs by backing up properly. I have seen all the great fielders of the past twenty-five years, and I must confess that not a single one of them can be classed with Speaker. He is really the whole Boston team. Without him Boston would have a hard time finishing in the first division. It was Speaker who won the pennant for the Red Sox last season. He is one of the most marvelous players that the game ever produced, and there is not a fielder in the game today who can hold a candle to him."

WILLIE RITCHIE A REAL CHAMPION

His Defeat of Rivers Makes Him Worthy of the Title.

CROSS IN LINE FOR HONORS

New Yorker Whipped Anderson In Masterly Style—May Be Matched With Ritchie Shortly—Battle Between Pair Would Be a Good One.

By TOMMY CLARK.

That Willie Ritchie has shown himself to be a champion worthy of the name will be a good thing for boxing in general. Of late, in some quarters, it has been thought the proper thing to sneer at all present day glove wielders.

The paragraphers, who, in their efforts to show their wit, are careless of exact fact, have been neglecting no opportunity to hold them up to ridicule. Even those who try to be fair and just have been forced to admit that the supply of real champions is limited. All this adverse comment has hurt boxing. If Ritchie proves to be as willing as he is capable he can do much to refute the skeptics and revive interest in the game.

There was much doubt before the Ritchie-Rivers bout as to the fitness of New Yorker's strong and weak points will hardly give Cross more than a fair chance of winning. Against a polished boxer Cross fails to make much head way, although he is had medicine for a rushing slugger. Still Cross is a hard man to figure. He usually does the unexpected.

MYERS PANTHER ON PATHS.

Boston Braves' Lanky First Baseman Has Tremendous Stride.

When Hap Meyers, the lanky first baseman of the Boston Nationals, is in full stride stealing bases he covers nine feet, something unusual in running. Myers is leading the National league base stealers, despite a batting average of but .224, which means that he does not reach first base as often as men like Bob Bescher, Hans Lobert, Doyle and Merkle of the Giants.

The average stride of a sprinter is about six feet, and even the "lathery" sprinter takes a comparatively short stride. Myers is six feet six inches and has the longest legs in the league. Myers stole 115 bases while a member of the Spokane team in the Northwestern league last year. No one expects him to duplicate this in the National, but that long stride gets him over considerable ground in a hurry.

A Cincinnati dopest figure that the average base runner takes thirteen steps of seven feet in going from base to base, while Myers takes but ten.

Myers is something of a baseball curiosity, and his work is watched with interest by the fans. If the time comes that the big fellow climbs into the 300 class as a batter, he is apt to become a veritable terror of the paths to pitchers and catchers. He uses a bat of unusual length.

There is one mark that Walter Johnson still has a chance to get this year—that for a season's total strikeouts. He now has more than a hundred to his credit. It never was decided definitely whether he broke Rube Waddell's record in 1910.

A Chicago admirer of Fielder Jones says he believes the former White Sox manager could come back right now and be a valuable outfielder on any team. If only because of the way he could develop teamwork in the garden and coach the others to do their work properly.
